THE BOY WHO ASKED FOR MORE

Oliver was born in the poor house of a small town. Oliver's mother died soon after his birth.

So, Oliver stayed in the poor house as an orphan.

Mr. Bumble was in charge of the poorhouse. He was selfish, proud and cruel.

Oliver grew with other children who lived in the poorhouse.

The children were served watery gruel in a large, stone hall. The children were always hungry because they did not get enough food to eat.

One evening, one of the bigger boys declared that he would eat the boy who slept next to him if he did not get an extra bowl of gruel.

The small boys held a meeting of all the boys and persuaded Oliver to ask for more gruel.

Supper was served and the children drank it quickly. They forced Oliver to go and ask for more gruel.

Oliver, with his bowl, went near the master and requested him to give him some more gruel.

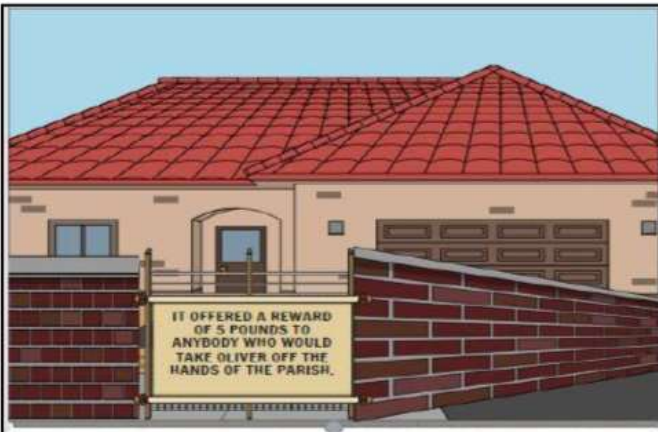

The master hit Oliver on his head. He caught hold of Oliver and called out for the beadle. Mr. Bumble came running into the hall.

He shouted at Oliver and said that he would be severely punished.

Oliver was locked up in a room to spend the night alone as a punishment for his courage.

He put up a notice on the outside of the gate next morning. He offered a reward of five pounds to anyone who would take away Oliver from the poor house.

In this way, Oliver was evicted from the poorhouse
