Situation 1

Surabhi: Shreeya, there is a local sports meet on Sunday. Can you participate in it?

Shreeya: Um... no thanks. I don't want to....

Surabhi: Oh, come on, you run well, can't you?

Shreeya: Of course, I can. But I'm in no mood to participate in it.

Surabhi: It doesn't matter. Shall we register our names with the co-ordinators?

Shreeya: Um...Can I think about it?

Surabhi: Sure, but it would be a waste if you do not participate when you are so good!

Situation 2

Refer Speak Well activity offering help from lesson Three Questions from the textbook.

Imagine you are Abdul, a resident of the historical Vijayapura city and you meet James, a foreign tourist in front of the Golgumbaz. You have the following conversation.

Work in pairs playing the role of Abdul and James.

Foreigner - Good morning. I'm James. Could I know your name please?

Resident - Very good morning. I'm Abdul. Where are you from, sir?

James - I'm from Germany. Could you mind giving me some information about this monument?

Abdul - Not at all. It's my pleasure. This monument is Golgumbaz. It is the second biggest dome in the world.

James - Oh, wonderful! Who built this great monument?

Abdul - Mohammed Adilshah built it.

James - What makes this monument interesting?

Abdul - Golgumbaz has a 'whispering gallery.' Every sound uttered in the gallery is echoed more than seven times.

James - Is that so? It's really interesting. Well, how many people visit this structure every year?

Abdul - Thousands. Eager tourists from every nook and corner of the world visit it every year.

James - But Vijayapura is very hot in April. Which is the ideal time to visit this historical city?

Abdul - November, December and January are the ideal months to visit Vijayapura.

James - Thank you very much Mr. Abdul for all the information.

Abdul - You're welcome Mr. James.

Situation 3

Refer Speak Well activity expressing appreciation and encouragement from lesson My Beginnings from the textbook

Expressing Appreciation and Encouragement.

Read the following conversation. Take roles and practise.

(Class Teacher and a student, who participated in the District Level Volley Ball Contest.)

Class Teacher: Hello Ananda, congratulations.

Ananda: Thank you sir.

Class Teacher: It seems you are so sad today.

Ananda: I'm not satisfied with my performance, sir.

Class Teacher: I came to know that you did fairly well in the event.

Ananda: Of course sir, I practised hard and performed well. Still I had to satisfy myself with the second place.

Class Teacher: Don't worry. Be confident. You've many opportunities still.

Ananda: Surely, I'll do better.

Class Teacher: Ananda, you know, I often used to tell you that a journey of a 1000 miles begins with a single step. This is the first step.

Ananda: Thank you for your encouraging words, sir.

Class Teacher: See Ananda, you are young and energetic. You have enthusiasm also. You can achieve whatever you wish for.

Ananda: Certainly, I always try to do my best sir.

Class Teacher: Keep it up. That's the spirit. Go ahead.

Ananda: With your blessings sir.

Class Teacher: Better luck.

Activity 27.2:
