

There's a Girl by the Tracks

Picture description

Study the picture given below.

1. Write a description or an account of what the picture suggests to you in a paragraph.

Answer: In this picture we can see a car accident. A young girl, who is a student, was hit by a car while walking near her school. Her books fell all over the road. Right away, other students and people nearby came to help her. Some picked up her books, and others called for help and stayed with her until it arrived. Their quick actions showed how much they cared and wanted to help.

2. Write a description or an account of what the picture suggests to you in a paragraph.

Answer: In this picture, we see a train accident. The train was very crowded. A girl named Roma got on the train to go home, but she fell off. Unfortunately, nobody helped her at first because they were scared of getting into trouble with the police and the courts. Roma lay on the ground, hurt and alone, feeling scared and abandoned because people were too afraid to help her. This shows how fear can stop people from doing the right thing.

3. Write a description or an account of what the picture suggests to you in a paragraph.

Answer:

In this picture we can see helping nature of Baleshwar. A girl called Roma fell from the moving train. She was injured and became unconscious. No one is ready to help her. At last Then, a man named Baleshwar saw her and wanted to help. He asked tempo truck driver for assistance. Together, they carefully picked her up and took her to the hospital in the truck. Roma got the treatment. This showed how important it is to help others in trouble.

4. Write a description or an account of what the picture suggests to you in a paragraph.

Answer:

In this picture, we see a joyful scene from village life. A woman is walking with a child, both appearing content and relaxed. Nearby, some children are happily playing cricket. In the background, cows are grazing, adding to the peaceful rural atmosphere. One of the children is holding onto a tree, enjoying the simple pleasures of village life. This image captures the warmth and simplicity of life in the countryside.