8. Anant was the best table tennis player in the school and the fastest runner. He was learning to play sitar with his sister. He was able to compose his own tunes.
9. Anant's parents had come with hopes in the miracles of modern science. They hoped that Anant would be cured. He would again walk and run and even take part in the table tennis tournament.

IV

10. The Jazz player was standing like an Ancient Mariner. He had a wrinkled face and closed eyes full of weariness. He wore a faded, old blue shirt with a frayed collar. He wore a loose necktie and an old jacket that held his sagging stomach. He had rundown shoes stuffed with paper.

11. The Jazz player looked like a very pathetic figure. However, the moment he started playing the saxophone, he was filled with a new life. He was no longer a helpless old man, as there was a magical power in his music. His music made him forget all his pain, transforming him into a bird flying higher and higher.

V

12. Once, a hungry dog found a piece of meat and carried it in his mouth. While crossing a bridge, he saw his reflection in the water and thought it was another dog with a bigger piece. He barked to snatch the other piece, causing the piece in his mouth to fall into the river. Left with nothing, the dog regretted his greed.

    Moral: Greed can lead to the loss of what you already have.
